

THE EVENING NEWS.

FIFTH YEAR—NO. 80

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 3, 1900.

TWO CENTS.

WILL ASK A NEW TRIAL

New Evidence in Totman Case.

Totman Showed Gold to Sodus Man.

Latest Sensation in Celebrated Case.

Two weeks ago Calvin Totman was adjudged innocent of stealing two bags of gold from the residence of the late George King in St. Joseph by a jury of twelve men but since that time certain matters have come to light and some startling evidence has been found which, if true, will certainly convict Mr. Totman of the crime. It is a fact that the attorneys in the case that represented Mr. Pixey, the administrator of the estate of Mr. King, and who was the plaintiff in the case, will make a motion for a new trial when the court convenes next Monday morning.

The new evidence in the case comes from a man named William Luckner, a resident of Sodus township, who is a bachelor by occupation and who is in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor frequently. Last Saturday Mr. Luckner was in St. Joseph in company with another gentleman. They saw Totman standing on a street corner and Mr. Luckner asked his companion who Totman was. He was told that it was Totman. Mr. Luckner had read the account of the trial and he immediately asked if it was the same fellow arrested for stealing the gold and when he heard it was he said that he knew something about the gold himself and that he had in his possession one of the original sacks which held a part of George King's gold.

It is said that Luckner tells a pretty straight story, how while in St. Joseph a few months ago he went into a saloon to get a glass of beer and while there met Totman. The two men became acquainted and took several drinks together and Totman made the remark that he had money to burn, whereupon he exhibited a canvas bag, which was filled with gold and which he slammed on the counter of the place. Luckner told Totman that he did not have a very good bag for so much money and that he would trade with him. Luckner produced a silk bag for carrying money and Totman emptied the contents of the canvas bag into the silk bag and Mr. Luckner took the canvas bag with him still in his possession.

If a new trial is granted and Mr. Luckner goes on the stand with his story which he says he can prove by the men in the saloon it will probably convict Mr. Totman from the crime which he is accused.

$25 Is Gone.

Charles Morse, residing on Empire avenue, reported to the police this morning that he had been robbed of $25. Morse says he had the money in the hotel and this morning a young man who had been boarding with him left the house and immediately after he missed the money. He will probably go out a warrant for the young man's arrest.

Devotional Service at Universalist Church.

There will be a devotional service at the Universalist church Thursday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. Subject, "None of us liveth to himself." Come and enjoy this spiritual feast, after which other matters pertaining to the church work will be considered by all present.

PUT A TELEPHONE IN YOUR STORE

Occasionally you will find a store, or other place of business, so far behind the times as to be without a telephone. The telephone facilitates the transaction of business and draws custom, as nothing else can.

People like to deal with those who consider no appliance too expensive, so long as it adds to the comfort of a patron.

THE STEAMER MARY

Hull of Burned Steamer Will Be Afloat Before Dark.

The hull of the steamer Mary was raised out of the water late this afternoon and will be afloat before dark. It is in good shape. She will be rebuilt. There is joy in the Graham & Morton office.

BRISK FIGHTING

GOING ON IN SOUTH AFRICA TODAY.

By Telegraph to Evening News.

London, Jan. 3.—Brisk fighting is reported today on the hills about Colaburg.

The Boers stubbornly resisted each attack of the British but gradually retreated from point to point.

The British held the extreme position south and east overlooking the town.

REVIVAL MEETING

Began at the First Baptist Church Last Evening.

Rev. C. E. Maxfield began a series of special meetings at the Baptist church last evening with the intention of continuing them indefinitely. There will be three more meetings this week, tonight, Thursday and Friday nights. There will be a sermon every night with usually a short after meeting.

MANY VISITORS

Inspected Wolverine Sugar Factory Today.

The invitation of the Wolverine sugar company to visit the mammoth plant today was accepted by several hundred people. The stream of visitors began to pour into the factory at 8 o'clock and they kept coming all afternoon.

Every one was surprised at the sight they beheld and agreed that although they had prepared a wonderful imagination that it far surpassed all their expectations.

The factory is working on frozen beets and it is hard to wash them clean of gravel. Several thousand tons of beets have been broken and the grinding is not being rushed.

The factory will finish the campaign in about a week.

St. Joseph Man Dead.

George W. Carley, aged about 75 years and an old resident of St. Joseph, died at his home on the corner of State and Market streets late yesterday afternoon. He had a stroke of paralysis last Friday and never rallied. He leaves two children, Mrs. Fred Fowler and George W. Carley, Jr.

In Berrien County.

Sheriff Ferguson is in Springfield, Ill., today getting out the requisition papers for Hewett, the man who swindled the American express company in this county out of $250. Hewett will be brought to this county for his trial.

A curious coincidence is noted in the fact that nearly all the great mining discoveries of recent times have been made in years ending with the magic figure nine. Thus the famous gold find in California fell in the year 1849. Ten years later, in 1859, remarkable discoveries of the same metal were made simultaneously in Australia and British Columbia, causing a great rush of fortune hunters to those points. In 1869 the famous Comstock lode find became known to the world; in 1879 the gold-bearing region around Leadville and Tombstone, Ariz., began to attract attention, and in 1889 the diggings at Clover Creek and in Lower California became the objective points of great multitudes of excited and anxious seekers after sudden wealth. And now again, at the end of another decade, history repeats itself once more. The remarkable gold finds recently made at Cape Nome, surpassing in richness and extent anything yet discovered in the Yukon district, bid fair to make the year 1899 as notable as any in the annals of gold mining.—Leslie's Weekly.

Good Cheer.

"Now, tell me doctor, candidly, is there anything the matter with my wife?"

"Yes. Her vocal chords are sadly affected. I'm afraid she may lose her voice."

"Say, drop in on your way back from the office and chat awhile, will you? Things have been going badly with me lately, and it's so comforting to hear you talk."—Chicago Times-Herald.

HAVE THEY SKIPPED?

Gens. White and Marsh Cannot Be Found.

Rather Queer Course for Innocent Men.

Said They Made $26,000 Out of Deal.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 3.—Former Quartermaster General William L. White, of Grand Rapids, indicted by the Ingham county grand jury for his connection with the Henderson-Ames deal, by which the state lost $40,000, has disappeared. Inspector General A. T. Marsh, of Allegan, also indicted, is also missing, although his attorney, Horace M. Pope, of Allegan, says he will show up at Lansing on Thursday with bondsmen. It is alleged both have left the state.

White's Suspicious Letter.

Gen. White left his home in Grand Rapids last Friday, ostensibly for Chicago, to spend New Year's with his mother. He was expected back home Tuesday. Instead, White sent a letter to one of his associates saying he might not be heard from for several months, and asking that his business affairs be settled up. In the letter he protested his innocence of any wrongdoing, but declared he was being made a scapegoat for others in the alleged crooked military deal, and could not hope to stand up under the burden.

Marsh's Absence.

Sheriff Porter was in Allegan Monday looking for Gen. Marsh, and was informed by his family that he had gone to Battle Creek. Marsh apparently cannot be found there, but his attorney declares that he will be in Lansing Thursday with bondsmen. However, he refuses to divulge Marsh's whereabouts.

White is bonded for $50,000 in the Fidelity Bond and Casualty company, of Baltimore. The grand jury resumed sittings Tuesday night with the military matter still under consideration.

Damaging Testimony.

Tuesday's developments show that the testimony taken by the grand jury establishes the fact that a conspiracy was entered into by White and Marsh, and apparently by S. N. Bickerstaff, of Kalamazoo, to defraud the state. Although Bickerstaff has not been indicted, it was his testimony that ended the case against the others. The testimony in substance is that of the $40,000 paid by the state for clothing, sent by the citizens supply company, which was organized for the sole purpose of making this purchase, shown was supplied in cash by White, who is said to have acted for himself, and the balance by the Henderson-Ames company of Kalamazoo, by whom Bickerstaff is employed as a salesman, and who sold the goods purchased, with some additions, back to the state for $41,000.

Subsequently Bickerstaff took with him in a grip-sack to Grand Rapids some $26,000, representing about two-thirds of the profits, and delivered this money over to White and Marsh, the former getting nearly $19,000. This he deposited in the Fourth national bank, Grand Rapids, and the next day drew out $8,000. What became of this last sum is not known, but the jury has its suspicions and will endeavor to confirm them this week. Bickerstaff's testimony as to dates, places and amounts is corroborated by the testimony of bank officials, hotel clerks, etc.

Balloon Clotheline.

A Paris laundry has started a novelty in the drying and purifying of linens, and has succeeded in convincing most of its customers that the notion is a good one. The air about 100 feet above the house tops is particularly good for linen, say the proprietors, and they accordingly send your shirts and collars for a balloon trip. Bamboo frames are attached to a captive balloon, and the linen, "rough dry," is fixed to the frames and sails away in the air. The balloon makes six ascents daily, and an extra charge is made for each article that undergoes the treatment.—N. Y. Sun.

THE members of the state military board who have run away do not act like honest men.

ENGLAND talks of sending 100,000 more men to South Africa. The English go on the principle that one righteous man can lick a thousand and ten put ten thousand to flight. England will get much glory out of whipping 60,000 Boers with 180,000 trained soldiers.

SOMEbody makes the suggestion that by ordinance the council could fix the date of the beginning of the new century. Perhaps they could, as far as Benton Harbor is concerned, but in reaching a decision on the matter it is likely that a couple or three aldermen might be killed.

THE discussion over the time of the ending of the century has reached Benton Harbor in its most virulent form. Something should be done. It is suggested in another column that the council should take action to stop the discussion. If it is in the province of the aldermen to protect lives by demanding street car fenders it is also a part of their business to protect the minds of their constituents by ending this discussion. Unless something is done only half or less of the present population will be outside insane asylums to welcome in the twentieth century on the 31st of next December at midnight.

IT has been a long time since a chief of police was appointed by a Benton Harbor mayor and confirmed by a unanimous vote. Chief Johnson should accept this as a compliment to his popularity. He has the ability and experience to make a good chief. The one objection that will be raised against the action of Mayor Rowe and the aldermen in the appointment is the fact that until the time of his appointment the new chief has been engaged in the liquor business—the one business which causes the police force more trouble than any other. The men engaged in the business will expect favors of Chief Johnson and the other people will expect him to enforce the law.
His position is not an enviable one.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.
For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh

One of Those Dress Pockets.

She was quite a well-dressed woman, waiting for the ten o'clock train, and it was then 9:30.

"How long will it be until that ten o'clock train goes?" she asked at the ticket window.

"Thirty minutes, madam," replied the clerk, suavely.

"Will I have time to go out and buy something?"

"That will depend upon circumstances, madam."

"I just want to go across the street."
"Where is your money?"

This was a queer question to ask,
and the lady rather resented it.

"In my pocket, of course," she answered, somewhat testily.

"Then you have scarcely time, madam," said the clerk, with gravity, and the lady flitted herself away from the window in a dudgeon.—Detroit Free

AUSTRALIANS ALSO FIGHT WELL.

Col. Pileher Captures a Boer Langer, Taking Many Prisoners—Loss of the Boers Thought to Be Heavy.

London, Jan. 3.—The war office has also received the following from Cape Town, under Tuesday's date:

"Col. Pileher reports through the officer commanding at the Orange river:

"I have completely defeated a hostile command at the Sunnyside laager, this day, January 1, taking the laager and 40 prisoners, besides the killed and wounded. Our casualties are two privates killed and Lieut. Adie wounded. An encamped at Dover farm, 20 miles northwest of Belmont and ten miles from Sunnyside."

Another Report.

Belmont, Cape Colony, Jan. 3.—A dispatch from the press representative at Dover farm, dated January 1, says:

"A mounted force consisting of 100 Canadians of the Toronto company, and 200 Queenslanders, commanded by Col. Kleckers, two guns and a horse battery, under Maj. De Rougemont, 40 mounted infantry, Lieut. Ryan, and 20 of the Cornwall light infantry, the whole was captured with 10 prisoners. The British casualties were two men killed, three wounded and one missing. The whole force worked admirably. The two men killed belonged to the Queensland contingent."

Troops Are Praised.

London, Jan. 3. The morning papers are unanimous in praising the gallantry of the Canadian and colonial troops. The Times says: "The mother country will share with the Canadians and Australians in the pride and gratification they must feel at the fine qualities displayed by their troops in this dashing little engagement."

Success of Colonial Troops.

Belmont, Cape Colony, Monday, Jan. 1. Another dispatch from Dover farm, dated January 1, says:

"The colonial troops who have been fighting to be allowed to meet the Boers have at last been given an opportunity to do so, and secured a brilliant success. The raid conducted by Col. Pileher was very successful, owing to the fact that the mounted troops of the Toronto company were fully equipped to the Boers in native dress. In order to prevent this the Boers had made his force march from it, and left a British troop at very short notice, with instructions not to leave the laager to leave their guns, the British soldiers, which were two men killed, three wounded and one missing. The whole force worked admirably. The two men killed belonged to the Queensland contingent."

"KAH-PEE-KOG" CLUB.

BY WRIGHT A. PATTERSON.

"FOR more than two weeks, now, I have sat around this fire every evening and listened to you fellows from the states do your prettiest lying about the fish you have caught at various times in your career," said Husky Bill, "and—"

"There is nothing personal in that statement is there, Bill?" asked Smith.

"You don't refer to that story I told about the muskellunge in Crane lake, do you?" asked Yorker.

"I think Barnes is the only man who ever really exaggerated any," said Tice, who felt safe in making such an assertion as Barnes was some 12 miles away at Barnesdale, on Lake Joseph.

Your insinuations are not particularly pleasant to me, though of course I realize that you do not refer to any of the experiences I have stated," said the Pastor.

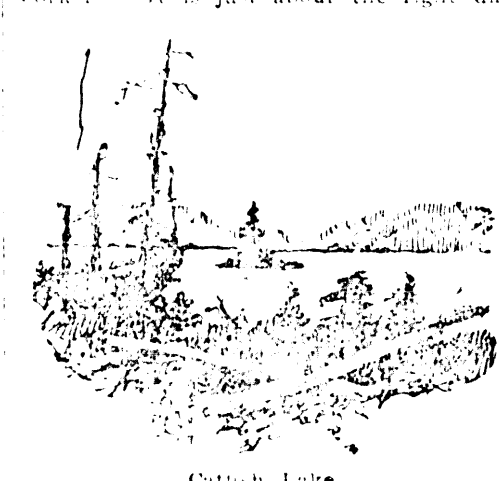

"Of course I don't mean any of you when I say I have listened to you. You fellows have been telling me, of course, Barnes would not have been the only man to exaggerate a fish around these lakes. I have been thinking of driving away the muskellunge for two weeks. But as I was going to say, there is a one of you who has made a fishing success at night."

"Well, tell us a good one, Bill," said Smith.

"The story is that I'm a going to catch a big one, but that it's a really big one, and I'm going to catch it. The pastor here had been saying that 500 or 600 fish in one day, then Yorker and Smith come around with a story that sounds that way, and they expect me to believe it. I'm a going to catch a big one, and I'm a going to catch it. Yorker and Smith could manufacture a story, and I'm a going to catch it. Yorker and Smith could manufacture a story, and I'm a going to catch it."

"I'm a going to catch it," said Yorker, "and I'm a going to catch it. Yorker and Smith could manufacture a story, and I'm a going to catch it. Yorker and Smith could manufacture a story, and I'm a going to catch it."

Catfish Lake.

tance from Barnesdale to correspond with the story that Barnes told us of the distance to Kah-pee-kog. It's a little lake with one little island in the center of it."

"That's the one," replied Bill, "and it is out of that lake that a half a dozen men and boys caught more fish one day than the muskellunge of all the days in this camp could catch in a month of even, four or five Ontario fishings. I told you the Grand Trunk road should publish the story of that fishing expedition as an advertisement. It would be a drawing card, and no mistake."

"This happened five years ago when the season for cutting timber opened, earlier than usual by several weeks. The men who own the timber in back of us had a big contract to fill, and sent the cutters in early. When they came in they built the camp that is situated back here in the woods away, and started in for a winter's work. Among the men were several from the states who had heard of the fishing in Ontario lakes, and they wanted to try their luck. A half dozen of them took a couple of days off and agreed to supply the camp with fresh fish during that time. They were after bass, but in the whole two days they didn't catch enough bass to make one good meal for the half dozen of them, and they finally gave it up, and went back to work."

"The fellows that were working with them were inclined to guy them about their fishing, until finally the fellows from the states got a little warm about it, and one of them finally offered to bet that there wasn't a hundred fish in the whole darned lake, and that there wasn't a man in the crowd who could catch a dozen of them in a week. Of course, he referred to bass, only he didn't say so. The other fellows offered to back him up, and finally there was a hundred dollars put up, and a written agreement made. Six men were to fish for four days, and they were to average two fish each a day. If they didn't get that many the hundred dollars was to go to the fellows from the states, and if they did get them it was to go to the fellows from Canada."

"At the end of the second day, when the men came in from the day's cutting, one of the men at the camp said he had been over at the lake that day, and that the fellows that were fishing had caught as much as a wagon load of fish by that time. The next day there was a story going around about another wagon load being caught, and when they came in the fourth day there was a wagon at the camp unloading the fish. Before that wagon quit coming to the camp it had delivered four loads of fish which the fellows said they had caught in two days."

"I'm somewhat of a liar myself, Bill," said Smith, "but I will turn over the belt to you."

"I should call such action on the part of the men who caught such a quantity of fish which they could not use as very unprofitable," said the Pastor.

"How about them five hundred and more fish that you said you caught in one day here in Kah-pee-kog?" asked Bill of the Pastor. "I suppose you ate all of them. As for that tale being a lie I told you before-hand that I could prove it, and so I can. You fellows seem to have a pretty good opinion of Bill Reeves' veracity, and I'll leave it to Bill if that story isn't true."

"That's what it is," said Bill Reeves, "for I helped to spend the hundred dollars, and saw the fish."

"What kind of fish were they, and how did they catch them?" asked Yorker.

"To answer those questions rather spoils the story," said Bill Reeves. "There wasn't a dozen fish in the whole lot that wasn't mud cats, and they caught them with a seine. In the agreement the fellows from the states hadn't specified how they were to catch them, or hadn't said what kind of fish they were to be, never thinking of anything but bass, though the knew they were lots of mud cats in the lake, for they had caught lots of them while they were a fishing, and for not thinking of such things they lost the hundred. Ever since then that lake has been called 'Cat Fish lake,' but there are very few cat fish in it today."

"I guess I'll keep the belt, or give it to the Pastor," said Smith to Husky Bill, as he started for the clubhouse to turn in.

A LESSON IN HISTORY.

BY WRIGHT A. PATTERSON.

"WHAT are you going to tell us a story about to-night?" asked Tom, as he settled down beside his grandfather's knee after the evening meal had been finished. "I'll let you and Nellie guess what it is going to be about," said grandpa.

"It is going to be about China, I know," said Nellie, "for you told us China was a veritable story land."

"It is a story about Africa, where they are having a war now," said Tom. "My teacher asked me the other day if grandpa had ever told us a story about that, and I know he has told them."

"I am afraid you are both wrong," said grandpa. "Nellie is right in saying that China abounds in stories, and you are right in saying that I was in the country once where there is a war going on at the present time, and I may tell you a story about what I saw there, or some of the people who live there, at another time, but this evening I am going to tell about something else."

"You know I crossed the Pacific ocean when I came here to live with you," said grandpa. "Nellie, who collected a great number of more important stories he had taken up his residence with them."

"And I crossed the great mountains and parts in the western portion of our own country. I had come in the past, and there I had visited a great number of the islands where we got our goods from Spain, and I had seen a great many of the things that I saw there. SCORES THE LEGISLATURE.

President of State Association of Supervisors is Disgusted.

Kalamazoo, Jan. 3.—At the session of the Kalamazoo county board of supervisors, held yesterday morning, a communication was read from J. W. Ewing of Grand Ledge, president of the state association of supervisors, scoring the legislature. The letter says:

"I sympathize with such men as Dingley and a few others who would have done something for the benefit of people, but were prevented by the number against them. The common people do not appreciate the embarrassments to which the few honest men were subjected, and the difficulties to overcome. A conservative expression of our disgust will be sufficient at this time. We have no time to spare."

SCHOOL NEWS.

All the teachers are back at work except Miss Barnhart who is unable to be at school. Fanny Hopkins is teaching in her room.

A number of new pupils entered school on Tuesday.

Regular teachers' meeting was held on Tuesday evening. The teachers have organized a physical culture club and will meet on Monday evenings until further notice.

At the beginning of next term there will be new classes in botany, civil government, rhetoric, U. S. history, English history and composition.

Just Saved His Life.

It was a thrilling escape that Charles Davis of Bowerston, O., lately had from a frightful death. For two years a severe lung trouble constantly grew worse until it seemed he must die of consumption. Then he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and lately wrote: "It gave instant relief and effected a permanent cure." Such wonderful cures have for 25 years, proven it's power to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles 10c at Lowe & Witherspoon's drug store.

Notice of Review--Sidewalk Roll.

To A. L. Hammond, Chas. W. Shriver, Mrs. Ella Antisdale, John McIntyre, Dollie M. Evie, Mrs. Rhoda Smith, Mrs. P. A. Hollister, H. B. Volheim, Great Northern Iron Works, and all other persons interested, take notice: That the roll of the special assessment heretofore made by the board of special assessors for the purpose of defraying the costs which the city council decided should be paid by the persons named for the construction or repair of sidewalks in the city of Benton Harbor is now on file in my office for public inspection. Notice is also hereby given that the council and board of special assessors of the city of Benton Harbor will meet in the council room in said city on Thursday, January 18, 1900, at 8 o'clock p. m., when they will review said assessment, at which time and place, opportunity will be given for all persons interested to be heard.

R. P. CHADDOCK, city clerk.

Dated January 3, 1900.

The Military Scandal.

The alleged crooked deal was the sale of over $50,000 worth of state property by the state military board to the "Illinois Supply company," for $10,000, and the alleged repurchase of the same from the Henderson-Ames company, of Kalamazoo, for about $50,000. It is claimed that the Illinois Supply company was a fictitious concern, and that the clothing and other property purchased by it was shipped to the Henderson-Ames company, retagged by them and then bought back for the state from them by the military board.

Michigan Legislature.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 3.—Both the senate and house reassembled Tuesday night after the New Year's adjournment and held very short sessions. A concurrent resolution was adopted requesting the governor for a message asking for submission to the people of a constitutional amendment providing for a general revision of the constitution. Notice was given in the senate of a bill providing for a specific tax on all mining companies of the upper peninsula.

To Meet in Madison.

Milwaukee, Jan. 3.—At a meeting of the prohibition state central committee Tuesday Madison was chosen as the place and August 22 as the time for holding the state convention. Delegates at large to the national prohibition convention at Chicago, June 27, were chosen as follows: Samuel D. Hastings, of Green Bay; E. W. Chafin, of Waukesha; J. B. Smith, of Madison, and Ole B. Olson, of Eau Claire.

The Public Debt.

Washington, Jan. 3. The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business December 30, 1899, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $1,134,309,007, a decrease for the month of $5,761,824. This decrease is largely accounted for by the purchase of bonds during the month.

Sympathy with Boers.

Columbus, O., Jan. 3. Representative Brumback, of Darke county, introduced a resolution expressing sympathy for the Boers in their war with England. The resolution went over under the rules.

Hand Painted Coats.

An Extravagant Fad That is Proving Immensely Popular with Rich English Women.

A clever artist in London has recently started a fad which has already had a considerable run. She uses her art to ornament the collars and cuffs, parasols, fans and other belongings of fashionable women. The coat shown in the illustration is of black silk, with collar and cuffs of pink roses, painted on a white background. The pioneer in this latest artistic innovation has more work than she can personally attend to, her orders coming from society women, actresses and others who are quick to see the possibilities of the new idea. It is said that she will clear $15,000 as the result of her first year's work. So far as known she is the first artist to make a business of painting women's gowns and turbelows.

An Excellent Savory Dish.

Such dishes as beef or veal olives are attractive and palatable. Sufficient meat for them may be purchased for a single meal; in fact, this is true of all stews; but broils and roasts are not good when small. Beef olives are strips of thin round steak with a small piece of suet or bacon rolled and tied within. They are first browned in a little suet and then stewed slowly until tender—about one hour—in a brown sauce made by adding two tablespoonfuls of flour to the fat in which they were browned. After mixing, add a pint of hot water and a seasoning of onion, bay leaf, salt and pepper.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Wearing Lace in the Hair.

Charming scarfs of lace are deftly intertwined in the hair. This seems to be the thin edge of the wedge, and as time goes on we shall be likely to see more lace worn as a fashionable coiffure. It is intensely becoming, and drooping at the back; hence court and bridal veils often transform a very ordinary woman into a good-looking one.

The Gray Feather Bon.

The gray feather bon, so much in evidence in Paris last spring, has reached New York, where there is a revival of that most becoming of all woman's neck fixings. It seemingly will not down. Nothing ever quite fills the place of these graceful womanish affairs, and gray is far and away the very smartest departure in them.
